"Crunch, Crunch."
"What was that? I squeaked while pulling my bag lighter around my body. Why did I let that into this camping trip?"
"You're such a wimp, Zach!" Mikey said while laughing.
"I'm not a wimp! I just heard a sound outside of the tent." I explained.
"I'm trying to sleep!" Kevin groaned into his pillow.
"Who goes to sleep before dark on a camping trip?" asked Mikey with a laugh.
"Someone who loves sleep!" Kevin grumbled.
"Guys! Shouldn't we check what that sound was?" I reminded them.
Kevin closed his eyes again, but Mikey unzipped the tent flap and looked out while he left the tent to walk. I nervously watched.
"We were getting scared over a squirrel!" I said.
"I'm not being a wimp," Mikey laughed.
"I don't care what you want. I'd rather be scared."

Sweet Tooth Character Traits

Claire and her grandma were checking out at the department store Grandma whispered into Claire's ear the words she'd been waiting to hear all day. "I think we should treat ourselves to Carrot's Bakery this afternoon."

A smile spread across Claire's face. Her parents had strict rules about desserts, but Claire was positive that she had a "sweet tooth" just like her grandma. They both looked forward to their trips to Carrot's Bakery to drool over the tempting choices.

Once inside the shop, Claire was delighted by the smells and sights of cookies, brownies, and cupcakes. Her eyes scanned from one yummy treat to another. As soon as Claire made up her mind to pick a cookie with fluffy pink frosting, she was distracted by a gooey cinnamon roll. Oh, how could she choose?

"Which one are you thinking of getting?" her grandma asked.

"I can't decide," Claire admitted.

"Neither," said her grandma. "How about we each pick one item and share?"

"But this was a brilliant idea! I would like the cherry cream cupcake," she told the baker.

"But square," ordered her grandma.

"I'll take the round one in a box and asked if he could add anything else. Claire and her grandma looked at each other. "We'll take one chocolate chip cookie!" they
